

The Sleep of Reason: Atoms for Peace and War

A Panel Discussion

Nuclear power, nuclear weapons – what are the common technologies?

To answer that question and more, the Los Alamos Study Group and the Campus Greens are sponsoring a panel discussion: The Sleep of Reason: Atoms for Peace and War.

Where: At the University of New Mexico Student Union Building (SUB), Ballroom C

When: March 28, 2005 from 7 pm to 9 pm

Who: David Bacon, Greg Mello and Rose Gardner

Nuclear power and nuclear weapons share common technologies. At what point do they diverge? What are the paths nuclear proliferators have taken, and what are the prospects for control? The panel includes David Bacon – Energy activist and former Green Party Candidate for Governor, Greg Mello – Director of the Los Alamos Study Group and special guest Rose Gardner of Eunice, New Mexico, who will report on the efforts of a multi-national consortium to build what it calls the “National Enrichment Facility” near Eunice. The panel discussion will be introduced and moderated by Peter Neils - board member of the Los Alamos Study Group. Neils is also expected to perform a set of songs with a nuclear theme.
